

Tip #2 Asking the Right Questions

Asking about the occupations they do or need to do but are challenging right now.

Trusting the person to identify meaningful occupations.

Emphasizing the focus is on WHAT occupations are challenging and not WHY.

Clarifying if problems are not occupations (e.g. pain, mood, moving). “What can’t you do because of this issue?”